

“

I fully immersed myself into college life by taking the opportunity to be a part of the clubs and societies outside of classroom learning. I became a student ambassador to help out with college events, I also became a course representative and president of the debate society. My communication skills improved enormously and I knew that I would gain additional life-long skills that you might not necessarily gain in a classroom.

BEN BELFIELD

Previously: Leek High School
Studied: A Level Classical Civilisation,
English Literature, French & German

MAKE YOUR MARKACHIEVE MORE